MAYSVILLE—ON THE OHIO, nestling in a valley as picturesque as the most favored of the Hudson or the Rhine, is an ideal spot for those who desire a home in the midst of scenic beauty unsurpassed in all the world.

It is the capital of Mason county, located in the famous Bluegrass Region, where the farms are highly productive of all the staples, while it is the home of the celebrated White Burley Tobacco, and the center of the District which alone produces it. The city has right now a population of 10,000, and the number is increasing every few days. There are good schools, public and private; Churches of all denominations; the finest system of water-works in the United States—with three active distilleries to forestall a possible famine. We have an electric street railway, gas and electric lights; manufacturing industries so diversified that "dull times" have comparatively little effect; telegraphic and telephonic service to all points,—and more a-comin'. There are two daily passenger trains each way between New York and Honolulu, and five each way daily between the city and Cincinnati over the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, and four daily trains each way over the L. and N. to and from all points in Central Kentucky—so if you don't like the old town after a fair trial there are ample facilities to get away. There are lodges of all sorts of Masons and Oddfellows, big fellows and little fellows, Redmen, Knights of Pythias, P. O. S. A.'s, Junior Order, Macabees, Eagles, Buffaloes, Elks, Knights of St. John, Grand Army Boys, Confederate Veterans, Sons of Rest, with two members of the Legislature—and if you want any others we'll get 'em. We have two daily newspapers, a free public library with accomplished lady librarians,—and as a further means of disseminating news there are innumerable sewing circles and card clubs among the Church members. These embrace a few of Maysville's present attractions; others will be added during the current summer, notably Home-Coming Week, the Fourth of July and brick streets.

If you like the prospect, Come and live with us; we will do you good—say the "do" softly, please!

Now, just watch Maysville grow!

THE good Lord took pity Wednesday on the waterless Cincinnatians, and there was an eight-hour down-pour of rain.

CURT JETT, the Breathitt county assassin, says in his confession, "I am the man that killed JAMES B. MARCUM," and then he tells just how he did it. Mr. JETT also charges ex-County Judge JAMES HARGIS, Democratic political leader and man of diversified affairs, with the murder of Dr. Cox, who was shot to death from ambush in the streets of Jackson by as foul assassins as ever plunged a knife or sped a stealthy bullet into unsuspecting victim; in spite of all which Judge HARGIS is retained in his position as a Democratic authority in Kentucky politics!

THE experience of Jeweler HERSCHEDE as Chief Engineer of the Cincinnati Water-works ought to serve as a warning to some others who are undertaking enterprises that they know nothing about.

AND England is to build a Navy for Russia! If her plans do not go astray, she will shortly have under way a new Navy far better than the fleets that met their fate at the hands of the Japanese. Negotiations are now proceeding in London for an expenditure of more than $75,000,000 for the construction of the finest warships afloat, which, when completed, will re-establish Russia in the ranks of the great Naval Powers. One of the leading firms on the Clyde has already concluded tentative contracts, and all that remains to be settled are the questions of payments and the place of construction.

EVIDENTLY this is the day of the farmer, says The Times-Star, to hear the rhapsodists tell it. Congressman J. ADAM BEDE, the wit of the House, says that the Iowa farmers have reached such a stage of prosperity that old-time farming implements no longer interest them—they want nothing which they cannot operate while sitting down.

And, as if the delightful condition pictured thus were not enough to make farmers out of all of us, along comes the Minneapolis Messenger with the following story of "discontent" from a Minnesota farmer—

"There's just one thing I lack," said a farmer from up the Solomon who came into town after the last rain. "I've got both the Independent and Bell 'phones; rural delivery leaves my mail every morning; fresh meat or fish is delivered, as I order it, every day; I get my vegetables all the way from Florida to Manitoba; I get a special train whenever I take my cattle to market; I can run into town at any time with my automobile, but I want a telephone down to the pasture to tell the cows when to come in and get milked."

With a self-milking cow, a self-cleaning stable, a self-carrying horse and a self-rising farm hand added to these latter-day necessities of the farmer, who dares say that the life of the ruralist is not one continuous round of joy?

The Court of Appeals has adjourned until September 17th.

Joshua Goodwin of Tannery, Lewis county, has been granted a pension of $12 per month.

WOMEN'S - NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY
Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling about it for the sake of other suffering women. For a long time I suffered untold agony with a female trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Sturgeon started his gun at work, and when he quit shooting there were two dead men on the sidewalk, the third dying on the way to the Hospital. Sturgeon was arrested.

The Home-Coming of Kentuckians is one of the unique features of the century, and like all things else, Home-Coming Week has been a growth, and the gathering here June 20th is the product of the idea of Home-Coming Week, and nowhere else will Kentucky hospitality more abound than at Beechwood Park June 20th, when Mason county's wandering children will once more meet the friends of their youth face to face, and those who were fortunate enough to be born in this city may use this form of speech—

This is Maysville! Turn and gaze.
How fair the earth! The heavens how near!
Where smile the stars, where glow the days
More gloriously than they do here?

Good looks bring happiness. Friends care more for us when we meet them with a clean, smiling face, bright eyes sparkling with health, which comes by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 25c, Tea or Tablets. J. Jas. Wood & Son.

HE TOOK THEM IN

How an Oldtime Gambler "Skinned" Sure-thing Men in New York

They used to know him as the California Kid. That was twenty years ago, and he was then a man of middle age. Some time ago he retired from the active practice of his profession and rarely touches a card except to show some crony one of the tricks so profitable in the brave days of old. All his life he had cherished a passion for the country, and the smell of the earth, and the songs of birds. The fact that the greater part of his life was spent in garish, stenchful, glaring saloons, crouched over a card table, but strengthened this longing. When he made his little winning he bought a place down on Long Island and began to raise bees. So, when he came to town the other days some of the younger hands did not recognize him. He looked like a nice, prosperous farmer, a bit sporty, perhaps, as becomes a man whose eyes are bright and his back straight, but not "wise," heaven forbid. George Allen, who usually makes the Grand Central Depot, found him first. It didn't take a minute to get into conversation. The old man was flattered at first, for he thought that Allen was one of the kid gamblers he had forgotten, but who remembered him as the one-time best short-card man in New York. Then he saw his mistake and played up to the role of "come on" which Allen forced on him. He cackled a bit in restrained, senile hilarity, as a pretty girl passed.

"Ain't she a peach?" he gurgled, giving Allen a poke in the ribs that disarranged several vital organs.

"Come up to the rooms till I get some money, and we'll go out," said Allen.

At the rooms two or three friends were sitting around, playing a listless game of cards. "Just waiting to see you, my boy," was the explanation.

Introductions followed. "Mr. Vanderbilt, Mr. Schwab, Mr. Gates, Mr. Guggenheim." The California Kid's fingers were a bit stiff, but at midnight he had all the money in the house, having persistently refused to lose on crooked hands, while his own ability as a dealer had not even been suspected. Mr. Gates and Mr. Morgan were openly accusing each other of being "on the cross." Mr. Schwab had borrowed a quarter to get a lunch and failed to come back. Mr. Vanderbilt was soused to the ears and persisted in grinning at Mr. Guggenheim's language, which should have been a source of sorrow. Then the California Kid, gray and wrinkled, got out of his chair. "Good-by, yoz bums," he said, "I been tryin' to lose my money to you for three hours so's you wouldn't have to take your sister's salary Sat'dy night, but seems it's no use. When you can find some gamblers for me to play with, send for me. Here's my card."

SUFFERED AGONIES FOR FOUR YEARS

Whole Foot Nothing But Proud Flesh — Tried Different Physicians and All Kinds of Ointments—Could Walk Only With Crutches—Ohio Man Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES THE BEST ON EARTH"

"In the year 1899 the side of my right foot was cut off from the little toe down to the heel, and the physician who had charge of me was trying to sew up the side of my foot, but with no success. When he found out that wouldn't work, he began trying to heal the wound with all kinds of ointment, until at last my whole foot and way up above my calf was nothing but proud flesh. I suffered untold agonies for four years, and tried different physicians and all kinds of ointments. I could walk only with crutches. It is sixteen months ago since I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for my limb and foot. The first two months the Cuticura Remedies did not seem to work, but I kept on using them both. In two weeks afterwards I saw a change in my limb. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment often during the day and kept it up for seven months, when my limb was healed up just the same as if I never had trouble. "It is eight months now since I stopped using Cuticura Remedies, the best on God's earth. I am working at the present day, after five years of suffering. The cost of Cuticura Ointment and Soap was only $6; but the doctors' bills were more like $600. You can publish my name and refer any one to write to me about Cuticura Remedies. I will answer all letters if postage is enclosed. John M. Lloyd, 718 S. Arch Ave., Alliance, Ohio, June 27, 1905."

Beautiful Homes

There has been an awakening among the citizens of Maysville during the past three years with reference to beautifying and making attractive our dwelling places. Heretofore too little importance has been attached to the matter of making our residences both attractive and comfortable. Take a drive, if you please, or streetcar ride through our city and observe the number of houses which are being painted and otherwise improved and contrast the present with the condition of affairs five years ago, and you will see that there is a marked improvement.

Are you the owner of one of these beautiful and comfortable homes? Is your wife confronted with the probability of having to move on 30 days notice? Have you provided a habitation which you consider to be as permanent as any earthly dwelling place can be? The recollections of home will do much to influence the future life of your children. Are you doing your full duty to your family when you continue to rent, when it would be much more economical and far more pleasant for you to own the residence you occupy? I have some delightful places in the central part of the city which I can sell you at reasonable prices. I have some splendid property in the Fifth and Sixth Wards where you can have a nice yard and garden, with sunshine and the most healthful and delightful surroundings, which I can sell you at astonishingly low prices. Delay no longer attending to this important matter.

Yours very truly,
